www.payhembury-weather.co.uk

Rainfall: June started very wet but then the rain stopped and since the middle of June there has been no rain to speak of for >20 days so the grass is looking parched and the water butts are empty.

Temperatures: There have been no prolonged spells of hot weather but it did reach 28 degC on 28 June. Overall the daytime temperatures have been above the 1960-90 average but the night time temperatures have been cooler.

Weather elsewhere: The hurricane season has started early with Tropical Storm Barry cancelling a Rolling Stones concert in New Orleans. Forest Fires in Canada and the Raikoke volcanic eruption on the Kuril Islands, in Russia have resulted in good sunsets over the UK in late June/early July and the former triggered a smog warning in Montreal.
